British Chancellor Talks on "Higher Nationality."

Declares Government Has the Right by Treaty to Define Status of Foreign Citizens.

Montreal, Can., Sept. 2. - Premier Borden, opening the annual meeting of the American Bar association, welcomed the most distinguished body of men ever assembled in Canada. Leading jurists of the United States are in Montreal almost without exception and besides them are some of the most prominent members of the bar in Canada, England and France. Right Hon. Richard Burdon Haldane, lord high chancellor of Great

The lord chancellor began by emphasizing the fact that the United States, Canada and Great Britain together form a unique group because of the common inheritance of traditions, surroundings and ideals, and particularly in the region of jurisprudence. He declared that lawyers are called on in days that lie in front to mould opinion and encourage the nations of this group to develop and recognize a reliable character in the obligations they assume toward each Lord Haldane presented the following message from King George V.: "I have given my lord chancellor permission to cross the seas, so that ne may address the meeting at Montreal. I have asked him to convey from me to that great meeting of the lawyers of the United States and of Canada my best wishes for its success. I entertain the hope that the deliberations of the distinguished men of both countries who are to assemble at Montreal may add yet further to the esteem and good will which the people of the United States and of

for each other." The speaker then pointed to the power of lawyers in creating and developing law, as well as changing it, a power more exercised out of the legislature than within it. He spoke of the influence of lawyers in the new world in public affairs, which, he said, was very striking to the observer. ollows: "The country must find lawvers of the right sort and the old spirit to advise it, or it must stumble through a very chaos of blind experilegislatures, in its seats of executive authority; lawyers who can think in he terms of society itself." Lord Haldane then dwelt at some ength upon the difference between formulated law, whether civil or criminal; the moral rules enjoined by private conscience and the spirit of the community for which the English have no name, but which the Germans call "Sittlichkeit." and which he defined as the system of habitual or customary conduct, ethical rather than legal, which embraces all those obligations of the citizen which it is "bad form' or "not the thing" to disregard, the social penalty for which is being "cut' or looked on askance. He pointed out that without such restraint there could be no tolerable social life, and said that it was this instinctive sense of what to do and what not to do in daily life and behavior that was the source of liberty and ease, and that this instinctive senes of obligation was the chief foundation of society.

"Treaty Making Power," particular ly in its relation to the controversy aroused by the alien land law of California, was the topic of the address by Frank Kellogg. He maintained that the federal government had the right o define by treaty the status of a foreign citizen within the states, the places where he may travel, the business in which he may engage and the property he may own, both real and personal, and the disposition of such property after his death.

The day's program closed with the conferring of honorary degrees by Mc-Gill university upon the following diafession: Viscount Haldane, Chief Justice Edward Douglas White, of the United States; Prime Minister Robert . Borden, of Canada; Maitre F. Laoori, Batonnier De L'Ordre des Advocats a la Cour de Paris, France; Wiliam H. Taft, ex-president of the United States; Charles J. Doherty, minister of justice and attorney general of Canada; Joseph H. Choate, ex-ambassador from the United States to Great Britain; Elihu Root, United States senator from New York; Frank B. Kelogg, president of the association.

SAYS QUININE CURED RABIES Injection Treatment Reported Successful In Supposed St. Louis Case.

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 2. - Charles Bearsley, a patient at the City hospital suffering from a disease diagnosed as rabies, has been cured by the injection of quinine under the skin. Dr. Downey L. Harris, city bacteriologist, gave out the details of the treatment. When the patient entered the hosnital he seemed to be on the verge of convulsions that mark the final stage of the disease. Dr. Harris gave him a modification of a quinine treatment that a Chicago physician had used in treating dogs afflicted with rabies.

Fifteen grains of quinine were in jected under Bearsley's skin. Favor able symptoms followed and another injection was given. Since then the patient has been given two injections of quinine a day. Dr. Harris believed the quinine tends to throw off the germ organisms in the body.

Washington Officials Say Negotiations Are at Standstill. Washington, Sept. 2. - Just as he was hurrying from his office to catch a train for Chestertown, Md., where he was scheduled to deliver a Chautauqua speech, Secretary Bryan said that nothing of importance had developed in the Mexican situation.

It was admitted generally in official circles in Washington that things are at an absolute standstill so far as President Wilson's program is concerned. Nothing was heard from John Lind the president's special envoy.

Not only has there been for the last three days a total absence of developments in the Mexican situation, but it was clearly indicated that not even administration officials expect anything of importance for some days. One of the president's advisers said that the administration has not the slightest idea what the next turn of the situation will be and much less has it any definite expectation as to when events will take another turn.

the arm. The effect is not pretty unless one wears a white or light gown, in which case the long expanse of white kid on the arm is not a decided contrast; but when one wears a gown of any ordinary color, and especially of black the white or buff sleeve is too consider uous for beauty. Yet what is one going to do if one insists upon wearing this new tiny sleeve? The public should be thankful that there has been a glove immediately made to wear with it or should no doubt see women going around with bare arms swinging free of their frocks, like prizefighters.

The roots of the small grain crops s wheat and oats, are more fibrous than the roots of such crops as com and the great mass of the roots of these crops is confined to the furrow slice. For this reason a well pe pared seedbed is even more essential han for the coarser feeding crops.

Insurgents Disapprove Compromise on Income Tax.

COTTON EXCHANGES RAPPED

Wiped Out

Washington, Sept. 2.—An increase of the income tax on large fortunes only when the incomes run above $250,000 gardner. Alexander. annually is the basis of a compromise Democratic members of the senate finance committee will recommend to the caucus tonight.

The attitude of the so-called insurgent Democrats was such as to indicate that they would not accept the arrangement without a fight and the caucus may run two or three days. The finance committeemen have decided to leave the rates of the income tax as at present, up to the $250,000

The new tax now proposed in addition to the normal tax above the $3000 minimum are:

Four per cent additional from $250, 000 to $500,000; five per cent from $500,000 to $1,000,000, and six per cent above $1,000,000.

The senate will adjourn at 5 p. m today and the Democratic caucus will then begin its efforts to agree on the remaining provisions of the bill. It is estimated that there are 550 persons in this country with incomes between $259,000 and $500,000; 350 with incomes between $500,000 and $1,000, 000, and more than 100 with incomes above $1,000,000. The committee Democrats probably retained. The finance committee had recommended the exemption of that portion of the income returned to the
